TALKING FOOTBALL with Brian Miller

I WAS very pleased with our performance against Wigan Athletic on Saturday at Springfield Park in the first of the three group games in the Lancashire Manx Cup. The players worked hard in warm conditions to earn a 1-1 draw.

It has to be taken into account that while Wigan had already played four fixtures in winning the annual competition on the Isle of Man, Saturday's match was our first since reporting back for training.

We are still in the process of building our team again and that task is far from complete. Injuries affecting Derrick Parker, Peter Devine and Steve Kennedy left us with a rather depleted squad but the players showed a good approach and after Ashley Hoskin had given us the lead with half-an-hour left we looked capable of starting off with a win.

It wasn't until 15 minutes from the end that Wigan forced an equalising goal which was a disappointment but even so it was a good effort by our team in difficult circumstances.

Derrick Parker, incidentally, has resumed training and should soon be back in action while Steve Kennedy, who has also had a knee injury and missed all last season, is doing well too.

Peter Devine had the great misfortune to sustain a leg fracture during a holiday abroad and that was a tragic blow for him personally and for the club in general.

Billy Rodaway and Leighton James have returned to the club and will be valuable assets, especially in the Fourth Division with all their experience and knowledge of requirements. Ian Britton has joined us on loan from Blackpool with a view to a permanent move and he is another skilful player, as he demonstrated on his debut at Wigan.

Welcome to Bolton Wanderers. They will be testing opponents, but if we show the spirit which brought that boost at Wigan there is no reason why we should not get another useful result. Finally, thanks to those fine supporters who gave us marvellous vocal backing on Saturday. It was greatly appreciated by all of us.

WELCOME TO BOLTON WANDERERS

TONIGHT'S Lancashire Manx Cup opponents Bolton Wanderers were Freight Rover Trophy finalists last season and their match at Wembley, which they lost 3-0 to Bristol City, was watched by 54,000 spectators.

Player-manager Phil Neal took his team to Fleetwood, Morecambe and Workington for pre-season friendly games and the Wanderers won them all before starting their Lancashire Manx Cup campaign with a 0-0 draw against Preston North End at Burnden Park last Saturday, before a 2,000 crowd.

A special welcome goes this evening to Derek Scott, who gave Burnley such fine service before joining Bolton. The Wanderers' squad is likely to include new signings Mick Salmon, from Stockport, and Steve Elliott, the former Preston striker, from Walsall. Goalkeeper Salmon did not play in Saturday's match but may take over tonight from Simon Farnworth.

Apart from Phil Neal, who may well be in the team tonight after missing the Preston game, Bolton's best-known player is skipper Asa Hartford, the former Scotland international midfield man, whose Football League career began with West Brom. He later played for Manchester City, Nottingham Forest, Everton, Manchester City for a second spell, and Norwich before his move to Burnden Park.

Wanderers' strikers on Saturday were Tony Caldwell and Elliott, but tonight there could be a recall for George Oghani after his tendon injury problems.

Tonight's match will almost certainly have a big bearing on the outcome of Group B in the Lancashire Manx Cup, as all four clubs - Burnley, Bolton Wanderers, Preston and Wigan were involved in drawn on Saturday.

In this competition, three points are awarded for a win with a bonus point going to any club scoring three goals in one game, win, lose or draw. Group A comprises Blackburn Rovers, Rochdale, Bury and Blackpool. The winners of each group will meet in the final next week and in that match a penalty shoot-out will decide the destination of the magnificent trophy if the score is level after 90 minutes.

Burnley reached the final last season despite losing 3-1 at Turf Moor to Bury in the opening match. Wins by 7-0 at Spotland over Rochdale and 4-0 at Turf Moor over Bolton put the Clarets through to the final which was won 1-0 by Blackburn Rovers at Ewood Park.
